WOMIN

WOMIN will develop a tailored training program, digital toolkit and transferable methods that are easily accessible and understandable to our target group, who will identify with the content due to co-creation.

We are creating multiple benefits by focusing on the digital concept: female empowerment, technical upskilling and the development of core competencies.

Although the make-up of target groups may differ, they will share degrees of social exclusion and a lack of skills preventing them from gaining employment.

The International Women's Forum (IWF)

The International Women's Forum (IWF) is an invitation-only network of the most accomplished women in the world. IWF connects women leaders across every professional sector in support of each other and the common mission of advancing women's leadership and championing equality worldwide. Established in New York City in 1974, today IWF is comprised of over 7,500 preeminent women leaders in 33 countries and 74 local Forums. IWF is the only organization of this scale that builds significant relationships between C-level women across countries and careers. The members are inventors, entrepreneurs, CEOs, heads of state, academics, scientists, astronauts, Olympic athletes, artists, filmmakers, financiers, philanthropists and more.

The International Women's Forum (IWF) was launched in New York City in 1974 when the first generation of women leaders was breaking the glass ceiling in professional sectors from finance to fine arts. Forum founders lacked access to "the old boys club" so the new women's network was born – to provide professional and personal support to aid each other's success and inspire women who follow.

Every member of IWF has a demonstrated commitment to a unifying mission: advancing women's leadership and championing equality worldwide. Together all are shaping a future in which leadership has no gender and the next generation is inspired and equipped to transform the world.

Women supporting women is just as vital today as the challenges we face call for a new era of leadership. Women remain underrepresented in the c-suite, on corporate boards, at the top of academia, law, finance, science, technology, media and health sectors and receive a fraction of venture capital awarded to male-led enterprise.

IWF connects women leaders across every professional sector in support of each other and the common mission of advancing women's leadership and championing equality worldwide.
